City Electeds and Employees to Spin Their Wheels for “Bike to Work Day”

GRAND JUNCTION, CO June 23, 2009 – While Grand Junction’s City officials spend much of their time discussing policy and attending meetings, on Wednesday morning you may catch some of them spinning their wheels – literally! Wednesday, June 24 is “Bike to Work Day”, and some of Grand Junction’s City Councilmembers, along with City Department heads and over 140 other employees (that is over ¼ of the entire workforce!), will show the City’s support for this event by taking part. A group bike ride to City Hall from Lincoln Park beginning at 7:30 a.m. will be part of the activities. Feel free to join us for the ride...enjoy some fresh air and exercise...and ride your bike to work!
