Volunteers Needed To Help With JUCO Recycling Program

GRAND JUNCTION, CO May 1, 2008 – This year, the City of Grand Junction, JUCO and Alpine Bank will join forces to make sure that the outfield is not the only thing that is green as recycling comes to the Junior College World Series. Volunteers are needed to fill game shifts each day, May 24 through 31, to help with the efforts. Volunteers will be helping to educate fans on what products can be recycled and where to “pitch” them. Game slots, both day and evening, are available throughout the JUCO tournament.

Interested in receiving a free recycling t-shirt, free meals on days you volunteer, and free access to JUCO games? Better yet, interested attending all the games? Volunteer for three or more game shifts and get a free week-long pass to JUCO! Volunteer to help JUCO Go Green in '08. For more details or to volunteer contact Angela Harness at 256-4184 or angelah@gjcity.org.

Volunteers will be expected to attend an overview meeting in preparation for the event on May 21 beginning at 5:30 p.m. at Two Rivers Convention Center (full complimentary dinner will be provided). All free merchandise and volunteering information will be available at that time.
